Celebrating the Heart of Brundall

More than 125 volunteers from across Brundall came together on Sunday 12 July for a special afternoon tea, celebrating the people who give their time, skills and energy to make the village such a welcoming and vibrant place to live.

The event, organised by Brundall Parish Council, was held to recognise and thank the many individuals who volunteer throughout the village. It brought together representatives from a wide range of local groups and organisations, reflecting the incredible variety of volunteering that takes place within the community. From supporting young people and organising community events to caring for green spaces, providing social activities and offering practical help to residents, volunteers play a vital role in village life.

Brundall benefits from hundreds of hours of voluntary work every year. While much of this happens quietly behind the scenes, its impact is felt throughout the community. Volunteers help create opportunities for people of all ages, build friendships, support those who need a helping hand and strengthen the sense of belonging that makes Brundall such a special place.

The afternoon was an opportunity to recognise these invaluable contributions and to thank everyone who gives their time so generously. Guests enjoyed refreshments served with the help of members of the 2nd Brundall Scout Group, whose support helped make the event a success.

Volunteering benefits everyone. It not only improves the lives of those receiving support but also creates stronger connections, develops new skills and helps build a more resilient community for the future. Every hour given, whether through a regular commitment or occasional support, makes a real difference.

A heartfelt thank you goes to every volunteer in Brundall. Your dedication, kindness and community spirit are at the heart of everything that makes our village thrive.

Hymns and Pimms

When I first arrived in Brundall, two years ago, someone said to me, 'Have you checked out the opposition yet?'. Not sure what they meant, I asked them to explain more. They went on to tell me that there was a vicar in the Hardware Shop. I was able to explain that we are not in opposition and very much on the same team!

We have another joint initiative coming up entitled 'Hymns and Pimms' on Sunday 6th September in Brundall Churchyard at 3.00pm.

If you don't like Pimms there will be a soft drink alternative and if you don't like hymns there will be some modern songs as well! Come along and enjoy an afternoon of singing, hearing stories and meeting other people.
Everyone is welcome.

Brundall Village Park update

The design stage for Brundall Village Park is now underway, to create a 3-hectare Village Green and a 7-hectare Country Park, funded through developer contributions and informed by feedback from village surveys and the Neighbourhood Plan.

A public consultation will take place once the draft designs are ready, giving residents the opportunity to view the proposals. Further details will be announced in due course.

Could you spare a little time?

Brundall thrives because of its volunteers. Whether you can spare a few hours now and then or help more regularly, there are lots of ways to get involved. From supporting community events to helping care for green spaces or assisting local groups, every contribution makes a difference.

If you'd like to help make Brundall an even better place to live, we'd love to hear from you.

Please email deputy.clerk@brundall-pc.gov.uk to find out more!
